Burger Chef was founded in Indianapolis, Indiana in 1954. The chain quickly grew in popularity, and by the early 1970s, it had over 1,000 restaurants in operation.

Burger Chef was known for its burgers, fries, and shakes. The chain also offered a variety of other menu items, including chicken, fish, and salads.

Burger Chef was a pioneer in the fast food industry. The chain was one of the first to offer drive-through service, and it was also one of the first to use point-of-sale systems.

Burger Chef was sold to Hardee's in 1982. The chain continued to operate under the Burger Chef name for several years, but it was eventually phased out in favor of the Hardee's brand.

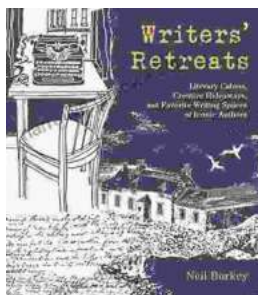

Burger Chef may be gone, but it is not forgotten. The chain left a lasting legacy on the fast food industry, and its iconic mascot, Burger Chef, remains a beloved figure in American pop culture.
