Ben's journey began in 2015, when he traveled to Lebanon to surf the waves of the Mediterranean Sea. He was immediately struck by the beauty of the country and the warmth of its people. But he also saw the scars of war, and he knew that there was much work to be done to bring peace to the region.

Undeterred, Ben continued to travel to other countries in the Middle East, including Jordan, Egypt, and Israel. He met with local surfers, peace activists, and people from all walks of life. He learned about the different cultures and religions of the region, and he came to understand the complex challenges that they faced.

Through his travels, Ben discovered that there is a great deal of hope and resilience in the Middle East. He met people who were working tirelessly to build peace and understanding. He also met people who had been victims of war and violence, but who refused to give up on their dreams.

Ben's journey is a story of hope, resilience, and the power of human connection. It is a reminder that even in the darkest of times, there is always hope for a better future.

A Journey of Discovery and Healing

Ben's journey is also a story of personal discovery and healing. He grew up in a small town in France, and he never imagined that he would one day be surfing in the Middle East. But his travels have changed him in profound ways. He has learned to appreciate the beauty of diversity, and he has come to understand the importance of working together to build a better world.

Ben's story is an inspiration to us all. It shows us that anything is possible if we are willing to open our hearts and minds. It also reminds us that peace is not just a dream, but something that we can all work towards together.
