Jacob's Room (1922) is Woolf's experimental masterpiece about a young man's life and death and the profound impact he leaves on those around him. Through a series of fragmented and stream-of-consciousness passages, Woolf explores the nature of time, memory, and loss.

Night and Day (1919) revolves around the lives of two young women living in London. Woolf deftly captures the social and intellectual ferment of the period, alongside the complexities of love and relationships.

The Voyage Out (1915) is Woolf's first novel, and it introduces many of the themes and characters that would come to define her later work.

This beautifully illustrated edition features original artwork by Vanessa Bell and Duncan Grant, members of the Bloomsbury Group, an influential circle of artists and writers of which Woolf was a part. The artwork brings Woolf's characters and settings to life, adding a new dimension to the reading experience.

This collection is a must-have for any fan of Virginia Woolf or 20th-century literature. It offers a unique opportunity to explore the mind and work of one of the most important and influential writers of all time.

About the Author:

Virginia Woolf (1882-1941) was an English novelist, essayist and critic. She was a leading figure in the modernist literary movement, and her works are widely regarded as some of the most important and influential of the 20th century. Woolf was born in London, and she was educated at home by her father, Leslie Stephen, a noted historian and critic. She began writing as a young woman, and she published her first novel, The Voyage Out, in 1915. Woolf was a member of the Bloomsbury Group, a circle of artists and writers that included her husband, Leonard Woolf, and her sister, Vanessa Bell. She published numerous novels and essays throughout her career, including Jacob's Room (1922), Mrs. Dalloway (1925), To the Lighthouse (1927), and A Room of One's Own (1929). Woolf's work is known for its lyrical prose, its exploration of female consciousness, and its innovative use of stream-of-consciousness narrative techniques.

About the Illustrators:

Vanessa Bell (1879-1961) was an English painter and interior designer. She was a member of the Bloomsbury Group, and she was the sister of Virginia Woolf. Bell was known for her colorful and expressive paintings, and she was influenced by the work of the French Impressionists. She illustrated several of Virginia Woolf's books, including Jacob's Room and Night and Day.

Duncan Grant (1885-1978) was a Scottish painter and designer. He was a member of the Bloomsbury Group, and he was the lover of Vanessa Bell. Grant was known for his colorful and abstract paintings, and he was influenced by the work of the French Post-Impressionists. He illustrated several of Virginia Woolf's books, including The Voyage Out and Night and Day.
