Benefits of Using Flashcards

- Flashcards help improve memory and recall.
- Flashcards can be used to teach a variety of subjects, including math, reading, and science.
- Flashcards are a portable and convenient way to learn.
- Flashcards can be used by children of all ages.

What's Included in the Set?

- 100 flashcards covering addition and subtraction
- A durable cardstock construction
- Bright, engaging graphics
- Instructions for 5 fun games

How to Use the Flashcards

There are many different ways to use flashcards. Here are a few ideas:

- Individual learning: Have your child go through the flashcards on their own, saying the answer to each problem aloud.
- Partner learning: Have your child work with a partner to go through the flashcards. One child can say the problem and the other child can answer.
- Group learning: Have your child work with a group of friends or classmates to go through the flashcards. This can be a fun way to learn and compete with each other.

The Games

The set includes instructions for 5 fun games that can be used to help your child learn math. Here are the games:

- Addition War: This game is played like the card game War. Players take turns flipping over a card and adding the numbers together. The player with the highest sum wins the round.
- Subtraction Race: This game is a race to see who can solve the most subtraction problems in a minute. Players take turns flipping over a card and subtracting the smaller number from the larger number. The player who solves the most problems correctly wins.

- Math Bingo: This game is played like the classic game of Bingo. Players have a bingo board with numbers on it. The caller flips over a card and says the problem. Players find the answer to the problem on their bingo board and mark it off. The first player to mark off all the numbers on their board wins.
- Flashcard Concentration: This game is played like the classic game of Concentration. Players flip over two cards at a time and try to match the numbers. If the numbers match, the player keeps the cards. The player with the most cards at the end of the game wins.
- Addition and Subtraction Relay: This game is played like a relay race. Players line up in two teams. The first player in each team flips over a card and solves the problem. The player then runs to the other side of the room and tags the next player in their team. The first team to finish wins.
