

Our Year of Living and Learning on the Road

A Family's Unforgettable Journey

In the summer of 2020, our family of four embarked on a year-long adventure of living and learning on the road. We sold our house, packed up our belongings into an RV, and hit the open road. We had no set itinerary, no reservations, and no idea what the future held. We were simply following our hearts and our desire to live a more adventurous and fulfilling life.

Our year on the road was filled with incredible experiences, both good and bad. We visited amazing places, met fascinating people, and learned so much about ourselves and the world around us. We also faced challenges, such as homeschooling our children on the road, dealing with the constant lack of stability, and finding a sense of community in a transient lifestyle.

But through it all, we never lost sight of our goal: to live a life that was true to ourselves and our values.

In this book, we share our story of our year of living and learning on the road. We hope that our experiences will inspire other families to consider a similar adventure or to simply live a more adventurous and fulfilling life.

Chapter 1: The Decision

In this chapter, we share the story of how we made the decision to sell our house and hit the road. We discuss the factors that led to our decision, the fears and doubts we had, and the excitement and anticipation we felt as we prepared for our adventure.

Chapter 2: The Journey Begins

In this chapter, we recount the early days of our journey. We describe the challenges of adjusting to life on the road, the excitement of exploring new places, and the unexpected lessons we learned along the way.

Chapter 3: Homeschooling on the Road

In this chapter, we share our experiences homeschooling our children on the road. We discuss the challenges of finding the time and space to learn, the importance of adapting our curriculum to our unique lifestyle, and the amazing benefits of learning outside the traditional classroom.

Chapter 4: Community on the Road

In this chapter, we explore the challenges and rewards of finding a sense of community in a transient lifestyle. We discuss the importance of connecting with other families on the road, the value of volunteering, and the unexpected ways we found belonging in the most unlikely places.

Chapter 5: Adventures and Misadventures

In this chapter, we recount some of the most memorable adventures and misadventures we experienced on our year-long journey. We share stories of hiking through national parks, swimming in remote lakes, and exploring hidden gems off the beaten path. We also discuss the challenges we faced, such as dealing with car problems, getting lost, and finding safe places to park.

Chapter 6: The Journey Ends

In this chapter, we share the story of our return home after a year on the road. We discuss the challenges of readjusting to our old life, the lessons we learned, and the memories we will cherish forever.

Our year of living and learning on the road was a life-changing experience for our family. We learned so much about ourselves, the world around us, and what it means to live a full and meaningful life. We hope that our story will inspire others to consider a similar adventure or to simply live a more adventurous and fulfilling life.
